

VAN LOAN SCHOOL

AT ENDICOTT COLLEGE

Master of Education in Athletic Administration

2018-2019 Faculty

Tim Alberts, director of athletics and physical education at Wilmington High School and former athletic director at Matignon High School.

Dr. Doris Lu-Anderson, has been working with sport marketing researchers to provide consulting services to the Georgia Dome, with clients such as Professional Bull Riders, Inc., SuperCross, Atlanta Football Classic, NCAA Final Four, and the Atlanta Falcons. She also works with the International University Sports Federation (FISU), International Baseball Federation (IBAF), and Taiwan Baseball Association among others.

Tom Arria, director of athletics at Cambridge Rindge and Latin High School; former athletic director at Nashua High School, Dedham High School, and Matignon High School.

Corey Bowdre, founder of The Bowdre Group, LLC; formerly worked in media relations for the National Basketball Association, specifically for the Charlotte Hornets; prior to that, he assisted in various roles in recruitment and marketing for Major League Baseball, first with the Atlanta Braves and then the Boston Red Sox.

David Brady, principal at Sumner G. Whittier School, Everett Mass.; former principal at Madeline English School, Everett Mass.; former assistant principal at Madeline English School, former high school basketball and baseball coach.

Susan Byrne, associate director of athletics, sales and marketing at Harvard University; former vice president, advertising and promotions and prior to that, director of marketing and community relations for the Boston Bruins; former board member of the Massachusetts Bay State Games and MetroLacrosse.

Mark Cinelli, former national director of coaching and sports performance at CATZ Sports; former strength and conditioning coach for MLB Pittsburgh Pirates and the San Diego Padres.

Dr. Fred Cromartie, director of doctoral studies at the United States Sports Academy in Daphne, Alabama.

Alyssa Czarnecki, chair of sports management, School of Sport Science and Fitness Studies at Endicott College.

Anthony D'Onofrio, director of the Master of Education in Athletic Administration program at Endicott College; golf tournament planner at Every Brand Apparel; former athletic director and physical education teacher at Pope John XXIII High School and former owner of the Gulf Coast Interstate Relay; former marketing director for Skating In-line Hockey Association; former health director at the LSJCC in Newton.

Patrick Driscoll, director of athletics at Malden Catholic High School; head baseball coach and assistant ice hockey coach at Malden Catholic High School.

Dr. Dina Gentile, professor, School of Sport Science and Fitness Studies at Endicott College; summer camp director; former senior woman administrator, head soccer coach, intramural director, NCAA compliance coordinator and coordinator and instructor in the Sport Management Program at Endicott College.

Will Gillespie, principal at Game ON! Sports Consulting, Inc.; Consult with sports entities on start-up issues, risk management, sponsorship targeting, event planning and management, and other legal and business issues.

Ty Halpin, associate director of championships and alliances for the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Dr. Matthew Grimaldi, director of athletics at Keystone College; formerly associate director of athletics for compliance and administration; Prior to that, assistant director of athletics and compliance officer at Mercyhurst College, in Erie, Pennsylvania.

Rick Kelly, guest lecturer at New York University and Cornell University; editorial consultant/research manager for NBC Olympics; freelance highlight producer for CBS Sports, editorial consultant, and researcher; former producer for ESPN and ESPN2.

Paul Krepelka, currently vice president of hockey operations for Carolina Hurricanes, former director of player personnel for the Norfolk Admirals; former leading sports attorney and agent for NHL players; founded the Orr Hockey Group along with partners Bobby Orr and Rick Curran in 2002; grew firm into one of the premier NHL player representative agencies in the industry; former employee at Woolf Associates from 1996-2001.

Mark Kulakowski, assistant athletic director for facilities and recreation and coordinator of contest management for all Endicott NCAA and club sports.

Jill Lathan, director of Parks and Recreation Department, Somerville, Mass.; former recreation director in Casco, Maine; over 20 years' experience of administrative management, program development, recreational and athletic operations, and facility management; Certified Park and Recreation Executive (CPRE) and a Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW). Former recreation and lifeguard director at the Point Sebago Resort in Casco, Maine; former director of recreation, fitness, and intramural programs at Thomas College in Waterville, Maine.

Dr. Frank Lodato, sports psychologist with Boston Bruins; former team sport psychologist LA Kings, Miami Dolphins (1972 undefeated team), New York Giants, Philadelphia Eagles, BC Lions, Montreal Alouettes, Calgary Stampede, University of Calgary, and the Temple Owls.

Dr. Stuart McMahon, associate professor of sport and movement science at Salem State University.

Lisa Murawsky, current international educator at the International School of Hyderabad (ISH) India and Co-Founder of Global Nomad's World (GNW); former director of the Brussels Sports Association (BSA); faculty member at the United Business Institute (UBI), and sport assistant at the International University Sport Federation (FISU) in Belgium.

Scott Novack, Led multiple teams that accounted for eight olympic medals; former facilities and events coordinator at Tulane University; former high performance director at USA Bobsled & Skeleton Federation; former U.S. Olympic Committee/Modern Pentathlon; USA Taekwondo; former USA Rugby manager of youth/high school development and coaching.

Bob Ohrablo, president and co-owner of Jacksonville IceMen professional hockey team; former executive director of strategic partnerships for Visit Orlando; former COO of Orlando Solar Bears Pro Hockey Club; former consultant for Whalers Sports and Entertainment; former VP marketing for Laminate US; former director of new business development for Florida Panthers Hockey; former COO of Syracuse Crunch Ice Hockey; former director of marketing for Kansas City Blades, former executive vice president of Phoenix Road Runners.

Rob Palardy, executive director of marketing integration at Endicott College overseeing web, digital marketing and communications; former assistant athletic director and sports information director at Endicott College.

Mr. Brian Porter, former director of baseball initiatives at Major League Baseball Advanced Media; former department head for Instant Replay; former specialist of major league operations at Major League Baseball; served as the assistant director of player development and, prior to that, assistant of baseball operations for the Chicago White Sox; former baseball operations intern/scouting trainee for the Atlanta Braves; formerly headed ticket sales and community relations the A-League soccer team Atlanta Ruckus.

Dr. Chrystal Porter, associate dean of the graduate school at Endicott College; former assistant dean of sport science/ chair of sport management for Endicott College; former sport management instructor for North Central College; former assistant director of admissions, North Central College; former sports management teacher, Florida State University.

Sean Quirk, associate athletic director Endicott College; head coach Boston Cannons professional lacrosse team; former head coach Endicott College lacrosse.

Mike Santos, president of the Norfolk Admirals; former general manager with the Florida Panthers, Nashville Predators, and New York Islanders; former commissioner and president of the North American Hockey League; former manager of special events in the National Hockey League.

George Scarpelli, recreation program developer for Somerville Recreation; former physical education teacher at Medford High School; former varsity soccer coach at Medford High School and Somerville High School.

Dr. Craig Slaunwhite, former director of fitness for the Winnipeg Jets; former personal trainer in Toronto, Ontario; former on-field medical trainer for the Ontario Soccer Association; bronze medal winner in decathlon at the 2008 Canadian Olympic trials.

Dr. Deborah Swanton, professor and dean of the School of Sport Science and Fitness Studies and chair of Athletic Training at Endicott College.

Bob Tewksbury, former all-star major league pitcher and current mental performance coach for the San Francisco Giants; master's degree in sports psychology and counseling from Boston University; worked as the mental skills coach for the Boston Red Sox from 2004-2016. Bob played 13 years in the major leagues with the Yankees, Cubs, Cardinals, Rangers, Padres and Twins.

Todd Vesely, currently, executive director of the THSGCA; former executive director of athletics, Ector County Independent School District in Odessa, Texas; former gymnastics coach, (first to serve in that capacity in that state); former athletic director and regional director and later committee chair for the Texas High School Athletic Directors Association; former president of the National and State High School Gymnastics Coaches Associations.

Dr. Brian Wylie, director of athletics at Endicott College (leading the charge to be one of the premiere NCAA Division III institutions in New England); former director of athletics for the Endicott athletics department.